Bulletin 12 – 4 July 2024

Welcome to our twelfth bulletin of the First Actuarial Monkey Euros 2024. During the tournament, we will be giving you regular updates on the latest happenings from Germany, and the current standings in our competition to ensure you're all aware of how well (or not!) you're doing.

Romania 0 - 3 Netherlands

After a fairly slow start to the competition, the Netherlands stepped things up a gear last night with a solid performance against Romania.

Liverpool's Cody Gakpo put Ronald Koeman's side ahead after 20 minutes, and substitute Donyell Malen scored twice in the 83rd and 93rd minutes to secure a spot in the quarter finals.

Austria 1 - 2 Turkey

What a save! (More on that shortly.)

Merih Demiral scored after 57 seconds to put Ay-Yıldızlılar (Author's note: final google of a nickname from me this tournament) ahead against an Austria side who have impressed so far at this tournament. Demiral got a second midway through the second half, before Austria scored one of their own a few minutes later.

The highlight of the game was an absolutely fantastic save from Mert Günok in stoppage time, denying Christoph Baumgartner the chance to draw level and ensuring Turkey make it through to the quarter finals.

A reminder that you score 10 points for each correct team you predict makes the quarter-finals.

We have a new leader as we reach the quarter-final stage with soccer enthusiast Aaron Love now occupying top spot. Only three (Marcus Johansson, Ben Hoskins and Will Sadler) managed to predict the final two quarter finalists are and all duly rewarded with a notably improved positions.

With 20 points now available for a correct semi-final pick, still plenty to play for.
