

Pension Awareness

How pension aware are you?

Many working people have no real understanding of pensions. At First Actuarial we're keen to help change that.

We are supporting the Pension Awareness 2026 campaign and this year we're focusing on retirement planning. Do you know how much pension you'll get and when? And will that be enough for the retirement lifestyle you're looking forward to?

Turn over for some ideas about how you can improve your pension awareness from our head of Financial Wellbeing, Catherine Lockyer.

PENSION AWARENESS 2026 SUPPORTER

If you want to gauge how pension aware you are, start by asking yourself these questions…

Question 1: Do you know where all your pensions are?

Most of us work for a series of employers during our working life and build up several pensions. Have you kept track of all your pensions?

Question 2: Do you know what type of pension(s) you've got?

There are two main types of pension in the UK. What are they, and what type are yours?

Question 3: How much State Pension will you receive?

The State Pension is an important part of your retirement savings. How much is it worth now, and how can you find out what you're likely to get?

Question 4: How much money will you need to stop work?

It's hard to work out how much pension savings you'll need to stop work. How can you start to plan for this?

Question 5: Are you on track for retirement?

It's great to know where all your pensions are and how much money you might need. But how do you make sure you're on track for retirement? And what can you do if you're not?

Visit our Pension Awareness web page and watch our video for the answers to all these questions and more.

What else can you do?
